Rainfall Is Greatest In 15 Years

Precipitation Recorded To Date More Than Double That Of Last Year

Kiting rainfall figures here to the highest seasonal total since 1921-22, the week's three-day storm drenched the city with 2.82 inches of rain and raised the total for the season to 31.34 inches, pumping plant readings showed yesterday.

The rainfall figure at this time last year was only 14.99 inches. The 1921-22 total was 38.86 inches, while the highest seasonal total ever recorded here was 48.61 inches in 1889-90.

Readings taken at the weather station maintained by Col. H. B. Hersey at 575 North Hermosa avenue showed a total of 34.11 inches for the season and a storm total of 4.73 inches. Col. Hersey yesterday predicted generally clearing weather over the weekend.

Tying up interurban trolleys for almost three hours and slowing auto traffic to a snail's pace, heavy downpours Monday afternoon brought almost two inches of rain, most of which fell during the three-hour period from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Dinners cooked as worried families of commuters waited until 8 p.m. in many cases before the long-overdue members showed up.

From 6 p.m. on the NEWS office was deluged with phone calls from frantic residents, many of them fearing an accident had befallen members of their families who were due here on the 6 o'clock car which failed to arrive for almost two hours. When the cars did get through, the 6, 7 and 8 o'clock trains showed up in a bunch.

Between 8 and 8 p.m. every parking place in the downtown area was filled and occupants of the cars hurried to the NEWS office for word as to when their overdue friends and relatives would arrive.

Broadcasts were sent out by the trolley company on two Los Angeles radio stations to allay fears of families and relatives of storm-trapped shoppers and business men.

During the height of the downpour water coursed down streets at millrace speed, running curb-high along the south side of the boulevard west of Baldwin avenue. Keresteg Court for a time was converted into a miniature lake. No local damage was reported.

During the height of the storm a car driven by Deputy Sheriff Glen Losey of the Temple City sub-station stalled in a large washout on Sierra Madre Villa Road south of Sierra Madre Blvd. The washout was due to a stoppied-up culvert.

BEER DRINKERS CAUSE CITY TO SPEND MONEY

Semi-monthly collections of tin cans, bottles and other rubbish is provided for in the new five-year contract between the city and the Whitties Disposal Company, it was revealed yesterday.

Better times, which mean more purchases of food and therefore more tin cans and bottles are partly responsible for the new two-monthly collection schedule. The real reason, however, is the maximum increase in the sale of canned beer here, as well as other and more potent beverages, that come in glass containers it is pointed out.

The two rubbish collections will be in addition to the regular twice weekly collections of garbage. The contract calls for payment by the city of $80 per month for the service.

Most Popular Man Contest Arranged

Local Veterans Of Foreign Wars Post Will Sponsor The Competition

April showers bring May flowers—but they'll bring more than flowers this year.

A contest to determine the most popular man in Sierra Madre will be wafted in by the May zephyrs, according to plans now in preparation by Pat West.

Sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the contest will culminate in another of West's tastefully arranged variety shows at the school auditorium, at which time to the accompaniment of "ohs" and "ahs" on the part of the gentler sex—the city's No. 1 male will be officially revealed.

During the course of the contest, coupons will be distributed to shoppers by all local merchants—the shoppers then writing in the name of their "favorite" and depositing their coupons in the ballot boxes which will be placed in the stores.

"Interest in the contest is already mounting," West declared yesterday.

MAYOR'S WIFE WILL WEAR A FOX SCARF

A silver fox, the first ever seen inside the city limits, was bagged by Mayor H. Clay Reavis Sunday.

Aroused by the cackling of hens at 3 a.m., the mayor reached for his .38-calibre revolver and rushed post-haste to the pen in his back yard.

There he found a sleek determined silver fox nibbling away lustily at his prize rooster.

Though in total darkness the mayor peppered away, firing three shots in all and putting an end to Mr. Fox's career for all time.

The animal, a full-grown one, was skinned by Fred Lalone and the coat taken to a Pasadena taxidermist for curing.

Several years ago a number of silver foxes escaped from a Mt. Lowe fox farm. The mayor's quarry is thought to be one of them.

"It is impossible to mentally or socially enslave a Bible-reading people. The principles of the Bible are the groundwork of human freedom."—Horace Greeley.

JUST DON'T GEE

President Roosevelt's thirst for power and his effort to concentrate into the hands of the executive (his) powers of government well balanced by the Constitution between the executive, legislative and judicial departments, doesn't gee at all with the oft repeated warnings of that patron saint of Mr. Roosevelt's political party, Andrew Jackson. Sturdy "Old Hickory" before and during his term as President counseled against placing too great power in the hands of the executive. No President before or since Jackson had even thought, at least out loud, of making the Nation's high tribunal a chorus of "yes men" for the executive. What Jackson feared was executive control over the Nation's finances.

During the last five years, since the Congress has been herded as never before and been coaxed and cajoled into voting control of the finances and thus every other authority it possessed into the executive's hands, Mr. Roosevelt's appetite for absolutism has been whetted.

Opposing the placing of too great powers in the executive's hands, President Jackson said:

"In the regulations which Congress may prescribe respecting the custody of the public moneys, it is desirable that as little discretion as may be deemed consistent with their safe keeping should be given to executive agents. No one can be more deeply impressed than I am with the soundness of the doctrine which restrains and limits, by specific provisions, executive discretion, as far as it can be done consistently with the preservation of its constitutional character. In respect to the control over the public money this doctrine is particularly applicable."

George Washington, Madison, Franklin, Hamilton and the other men who helped to frame the Constitution, had studied the histories of Babylon, Egypt, Rome and Greece. They were also familiar with the monarchies of their own day and generation.

These men knew that in the history of every government, the time comes sooner or later, when a man appears on horseback, like Apollyon of the Apocalypse, whose thirst for power is never satisfied.

For this reason, the writers of the Constitution deliberately created a Constitutional system of "checks and balances" to save America from the tragic fate of other empires.

A SENSIBLE PLEDGE

New York State is requiring motorists who have been involved in accidents to sign a pledge, as follows:

"I pledge myself to respect the speed laws of the community in which I am driving—the rights of pedestrians and the rules of the road. To drive only a regularly inspected vehicle to insure greater safety—to stay in the proper physical condition for driving—to drive safely at all times with care, courtesy and common sense."

Wouldn't be a bad idea if all drivers were required to take such a pledge when they are licensed and renew it with each application for a new license. Last year, New York state—with the largest population—decreased its traffic deaths 9 per cent.

LITTLE MINA

A white hyacinth
In a little Dutch shoe,
Serene as the stars
In an ocean of blue.
A passion of beauty
Blossoming there . . .
Enchantingly quiet,
With trumpets that blare.

The face that I see
In each fluted bell,
Is the face of a Dutch girl
Who loves me quite well.
The smooth perfumed petals
Invitingly curl . . .
They are wings of a kiss
From that little Dutch girl.

Leona D. Cole

Sierra Madre, March 16.

Gaddin' Around with BILL PEET

THE little town of Montell in the Texas Badlands claims a wistaria vine older, larger and more beautiful when in bloom than our own famous vine, and would like to capitalize in a publicity way just as Sierra Madre has done for years.

Montell's Wistaria vine may be all the good people of that town claim and more, but the fact remains that the Sierra Madre vine has already become world famous for its beauty and attracts thousands from all over the world when the show is on.

Like the annual "Rose Bowl" football game in Pasadena, this game was the first of its kind and has become so firmly established that "The Cotton Bowl," "The Sugar Bowl" and other "bowl games" fall short of their purpose as a gridiron attraction. There is only one annual "Rose Bowl" football game.

There is only one "Wistaria Fete," and we have it.

With the arrival of spring and sunny weather come the birds, our little feathered friends, of all types, sizes and plumage. The canyon is alive with them, but—

Sierra Madre has no crows or sea gulls, according to a life long resident of this city, at least he says he has never seen a crow close to the foot hills and the northern boundary although, he admits there are crows down in Arcadia and adjacent territory. Sea gulls are common in certain sections of Altadena, it is said, but not here.

There may be folks here who will dispute the foregoing statements. I am merely taking one man's word for it. And this leads to arguments remember I did not start it—and you can't prove a thing by me.

Sierra Madre's baseball team had a good work out Sunday and the boys are going to practice as often as possible in order to be in condition when the season opens.

Members of the team work for a living and have very little leisure time for practice except on Sundays and at night, but all are enthusiastic and looking forward to a fine season.

Sierra Madre's American Legion Post is certain to place a team in the 18th District league and the Church league will undoubtedly continue where it left off last fall.

Baseball is much too good a game to die a natural death, for lack of interest and I for one am mighty glad that Sierra Madre plans to keep our National pastime alive.

I may be old-fashioned but have always felt that there was something wrong with the average American boy who did not enjoy playing or watching a ball game.

Mid West newspaper, a weekly, carries the following announcement at its mast head. "An Independent Newspaper, Owned by its Editor and Edited by its Owner, Controlled by no Clique, 'Man or Political Party.'"

The goes for THE NEWS my friends, and its one reason why we print each week a clean, well edited up-to-date newspaper.

Lee Shippey, a regular hiker on the trails into our "back" or "up" country, has me all excited and rarin' to get back into Big Santa Anita canyon. He hiked "away back in" Sunday. His column in the Times Sunday morning was largely devoted to poison oak. What he wrote may have nothing to do with what happened . . . may be just a coincidence . . . but Monday morning Lee woke up with burning hands and scarlet spots on his face. Poison oak poisoning had itself pretty well entrenched all over his face Tuesday. But Lee says the Big Santa Anita with innumerable rippling streams and water falls has not been as beautiful as it is now since he came to Southern California.

When these million dollar rains clear up for the Wistaria Fete and there is no danger of a portly person slipping off the narrow trails, I'm sure going back into that canyon as far as my wind will hold out.

Who remembers the good old days when it wasn't so horribly ill mannered to dunk not only your doughnuts, but rolls, too, and even to break your bread up in the old coffee cup and make "coffee soup." You have to hide when you indulge in these old fashioned luxuries now . . . Ho hum . . . one by one our liberties are being separated from us. At that, I'll bet the "nine old men" on the Supreme court would decide that dunking is constitutional.

TOWN PICK UPS

When Pat West parks his station wagon (we call 'em banana wagons in Hawaii) close to the curb on an up grade Mrs. West warns him not to sit in the rear seat . . . she's afraid the thing will topple over backwards . . . But Pat keeps right on eating candy and increasing the hazard . . . Interested townsfolk have already visited the Wistaria vine and are amazed at the transformation that has taken place . . . Thus far our kids have heeded the warning about flying kites into electric and telephone wires, but it's hard to keep those who own bicycles off the sidewalks . . .

LETTERS From Readers

DENIES USURPATION

To the Editor of the

Sierra Madre News:

Even before George Washington and Benjamin Franklin and the rest of those "founding fathers" signed that engrossed copy of the Constitution which is preserved in the Library of Congress, men foresaw that if the Constitution should be adopted, disputes and troubles would ensue. Certain as sunrise it was that Congress would pass some act on which some man would base some claim against some other man, which that other would resist and say "that Act of Congress is no law because it is contrary to the Constitution."

So the two men would get into a lawsuit (a popular indoor sport) in some court—a court of the State of Virginia or New York, or wherever they were living.

Now suppose it should happen (as in fact it did happen over and over) that the State court decided the Act of Congress invalid, so that no claim could be based on it; and gave judgment accordingly. What should be done? Must the validity of National legislation be left to the judgment of the State Courts? The Court of Massachusetts might declare an Act of Congress invalid, the Court of Maryland hold the same act valid. Some way must be found to avoid the confusion that was sure to follow:

The view prevailed that if a lawsuit should be carried to the highest available court of a state and that court should hold an Act of Congress invalid, an appeal must be allowed to the Supreme Court of the United States and that court given authority to say whether the State Court's judgment quashing the Act of Congress should be reversed or should stand affirmed.

The real question was: would a State court permit one of its judgments to be reviewed in a Federal court? Had Congress itself the power under the Constitution to enforce a right to such review?

You will find that so late as 1854 the Supreme Court of California declared that Congress had no such power and that the State Court had the right to decide for itself and finally whether or not an Act of Congress was law. Three years later two of the three justices of our State Supreme Court overruled that decision but Justice Terry of odorous memory—he who killed Broderick and was himself years later killed while he was making an assault on Justice Field in the railroad eating house at Lathrop—Justice Terry still stuck to it that no judgment of a state court could be appealed to the Federal court. Such an appeal, he said, was contrary to the doctrine of State rights.

The Act of Congress which Justice Terry thought void is Section 25 of Chapter 20 of the laws passed at the first session of the first Congress, which sat in New York City in 1789; it was approved by George Washington on September 24th of that year, less than seven months after he became President. That was the first assertion by our government of the Supreme Court's authority to adjudge Acts of Congress invalid; and the assertion was made by the legislative and executive departments of the government, before one single judge had been appointed, before the Supreme Court had a clerk, an office or even a desk, and at least a year before the first case was placed on its calendar.

That is one answer, answer enough, to the mossy lie that the United States Supreme Court usurped or arrogated to itself the authority to declare Acts of Congress invalid. That authority was given it by the Act, approved by Washington; and could have been evaded only if the Court had "usurped" the authority to declare invalid that very Act.

That part of that Act has never been repealed or abridged; it is part of the latest revision of the Federal Judicial Code.

"A study by the Twentieth Century Fund reveals the fact that there are 175,000 different tax collecting units in the United States. The problem of overlapping taxation and double taxation as a result of this system is a serious and baffling one," says the New York Times.

In 1936 there were nearly 11 million accidents in this country alone. There were 366 days in 1936. That means there were nearly 30,000 accidents every day last year, and more than 1200 every hour. It also means that there were 21 accidents happening somewhere in this country every minute or one every three seconds! Think of it—every time your watch ticked three times in 1936, someone was either killed or injured in an accident.

It has come to the point where a good work horse now costs more than a good second hand automobile. According to a tabulation of monthly farm prices made by the University of California, work horses at least are still very much in the picture. As a matter of fact, a good sound plough horse now costs about $20 more than he cost in the boom days of 1925 and 1929. The last quotation was $110 a head which is $8 a head better than the price a year ago.

the great California Highway system virtually was trod out step by step by Father Junipero Serra, founder of nine of 21 of the California Missions. He was the most remarkable pedestrian or hiker of whom there are reliable accounts in this country, according to records investigated by the Federal Writers' Project. It is estimated by Project workers that Father Serra walked 12,000 miles on regular trips, and probably 5,000 or 6,000 miles more on side trips, despite the fact that he was over 50 years of age at the time of his California travels, and had a bad leg.

Lid Down On Gambling Devices

Operators Of Pin And Other
Machines Here Are Abiding
By New Regulations

There will be no repercussions in Sierra Madre from the anti-gambling ukase issued Monday by Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz, it was pointed out yesterday by Chief of Police G. G. McMillan.

Chief McMillan, who was among the 100 police officials and city employees attending the sheriff's "crime conference" Monday, pointed out that operators of pin-ball machines here were instructed to shut down their machines following a meeting of police chiefs of Los Angeles county December 20.

Operators here have made no attempt to reopen since then, although gambling in nearby cities and in adjacent county territory has gone on unchecked.

Monday's conference was the upshot of a letter to the sheriff from Attorney General U. S. Webb, in which he charged that "the law violators in Los Angeles county are now openly challenging the official integrity and the official efficiency of the law officers of the county and of its various municipalities."

"I am quite familiar with the claim that many of these machines are played for amusement only, but you and I both well know that the gambler can make no profit on an amusement machine," Webb wrote.

Games included under Webb's ban are pin-ball machines, slot machines, tango and all other games of chance.

Under the attorney general's ruling, the law will have to be enforced against gambling at charity functions, McMillan declared.

A.L.A. Activities

PLANS to observe the American Legion's birthday as directed by its National Commander were considered and a beautiful plaque was presented to our unit National Defense chairman by President Lovejoy at our meeting last Monday evening.

Excerpts from minutes of the unit activities in 1936 were most interesting, as ready by Mrs. T. P. Buie.

Musician Mrs. Wilhelm was present and we were most happy of her presence. Also our thanks to the Baldwin Safeway for the space to conduct the food sale.

The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Quin on Ramona avenue, March 25th at 8 p.m.

Tax Payments Beat All Past Years

City And County Funds Pour Into Collector At Rate Of $125,000 A Day

Tax payments for the first two weeks of March have averaged $125,000 per day, according to H. L. Byram, county tax collector. This record exceeds that for the same period for all past years. Up to March first the year's collections were $6,587,417, or some $605,000 ahead of the $5,982,240 that had been paid in the last fiscal year up to the corresponding date, the tax collector said.

Payment of delinquent taxes on Los Angeles county property exceeded a quarter of a million dollars during the short month of February, according to T. E. Tanner, chief of the tax redemption bureau of the tax collector's office.

The total collected, $792,354, was more than double the amount collected during February of 1936, according to the tax collector's book.

April 20, is the deadline to pay Sierra Madre City and Los Angeles county penalties, unless the present session of the State legislature extends the privilege. Delinquent taxes may also be paid in 10 payments, a plan that has made it possible for thousands of owners of tax-delinquent property to redeem their holdings.

Meanwhile, collections of current taxes are increasing daily. Much of the money is paid by money order or certified checks, for which the tax collector's staff mails out receipts. Collections of current taxes were climbing toward the 70 per cent mark this week.

Fire Flames

By One of the Boys

DURING Friday night's meeting members of the Fire Department were pleasantly surprised with a visit from a very young lady who introduced us to the work of the Junior Drama Guild of which Mrs. Frances Eakman is the advisor. After having heard the girl make a talk, a lot of the boys decided they had better ask Mrs. Eakman if they might join the Guild — or some Guild under her direction. The manner in which this very young girl approached the meeting and the way she delivered her appeal for co-operation from the boys showed beyond doubt that Mrs. Eakman is doing a wonderful work with the children.

The Chief nearly lost his prestige when his attention was called to the fact that he appeared at the recent Angeles Forest Protective meeting dressed in his business suit, when he should have had on his firemen's uniform. He was reminded of this in no small language. Bill took it with a smile.

Some of the men are getting anxious for a fire call, but seriously would dislike to spoil our record of few fires. We have so few fires here for a city of this size that the residents must be commended for their thoughtfulness. Only strangers coming into this territory are innocent of the danger of fire and its results. The firemen appreciate the co-operation of those who aid us in preventing fire by reporting any hazard that may exist.

We like to fight fires, but our aim is to keep the "Fires Out."

Woman's Club Notes

UNDER the glorious spring sun at Scenic Point, members of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club will hold their annual Reciprocity luncheon Wednesday, March 24th. Some fifty invitations have been extended to other Women's Clubs in the surrounding communities, who will be delightfully entertained under the vine by Madame Akemi Togo who will discuss the tradition of wistarias as well as demonstrating unique flower arrangements.

During Wednesday's Sections group meetings at which Mrs. Rose Snell, Mrs. Esther Rashin and Mrs. Ethel Myers officiated, George Peabody gave a very detailed and graphic description of the scope and extent of the recreational department of the WPA. Mr. Peabody spoke in place of R. E. Fitch, the supervisor of this department of the WPA for this district. During the informal luncheon period, Mrs. C. A. Allen reviewed a most interesting play, "Parnell," revised by Margaret Rawlings, and originally written by Elsie P. Schaffner. The play dealt with the tragedy which prevented Parnell from going on with his great work during the 1880's.

Mrs. H. A. N. Addis is carrying on admirably with the French section in the absence of Mrs. Lee Shippey. This class will meet at the club Friday, March 26, at 1 o'clock to continue the study in French.

Announce Contests For Violinists And Pianists

Pasadena Civic Orchestra Association announces contests for young artist violinists and pianists, the winners, one in each contest, to appear as soloists with the orchestra under the baton of its notable conductor, Richard Lert. One winner will play with the orchestra at the last concert of this season, June 26; the other winner will be soloist for the concert which will open the 1937-38 season in the autumn.

Contests will be held Tuesday, April 6, and Thursday, April 8, in the afternoon, at the studio of Mrs. Joseph M. Goss, 588 Woodland Road, Pasadena.

Contestants may play any standard concerto of their own choosing. The concertos played by the winners will be used at their respective appearances with the orchestra if those concertos are suitable to the ability of the orchestra. Contestants must select their own accompanists.

Payments Under The Social Security Act Demanded

Twelve persons in Los Angeles county have already claimed payments under the national social security act, which went into effect January 1.

One man claimed the 3 1/2 per cent of money he had earned since the first of the year and got $5.25. The other 11 got sums less than $5.

Monthly payments under the plan will not begin until 1940.

Miss Morgridge Is Headed For National Honors

A prize of $1000 plus nationwide concert appearances was a step nearer for Miss Elizabeth Morgridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Morgridge, 19 West Orange Grove avenue, when she won the Southern California district young artists competition in Los Angeles Saturday. The affair was a preliminary to the National Federation of Music Clubs contest later in the year at Indianapolis.

While the contest is open for persons between 21 and 30, Miss Morgridge, a highly skilled violinist, was permitted to enter by virtue of her winning a place in the student division of the same contest, a biennial event, two years ago.

The youthful virtuoso will next compete in the California-Nevada division elimination.
Miss Morgridge, at present studying the violin and French, will appear on a concert program at the Hotel Vista del Arroyo March 30.

U. S. C. BOTANIST PREDICTS GREATEST WILD FLOWER FIELDS IN 20 YEARS

Blooms Will Be More Plentiful And Last Longer Due To The Many Rains

Nature's most brilliant display of wild flowers in 20 years is predicted for the latter part of April by Dr. A. L. Grant, botany instructor of the University of Southern California.

"Abundant rains will probably make this season's displays more colorful than two years ago, especially in the Arvin flower hills (near Bakersfield) and Mojave district," said the instructor. "Especially vivid will be the golden poppies, blues in lupines, reds of paint brushes, and varied hues of yellows, whites, and pink found in the bird's-eye gilia, evening primrose, owl's clover, blazing stars and thistle sage."

Sightseers are also advised to visit the San Diego back country and the Death Valley district a little later. According to the National Automobile Club, the back country of San Diego is blossoming forth in its spring beauty. Hills are velvety green and bright yellow is appearing in the orange groves. The flaming ocotillo is now in full blossom along State Road 78 between Kane Springs and Julian. The Borego valley is one of the best sections in the South for desert growth. Here the long stems of the ocotillo rise to a height of 15 to 20 feet out of the desert sands.

Recent rains promise a great wild flower show this season in Death Valley. Already the alluvial fans are turning green and the earlier blossoms are appearing.

The prospect is that wherever wild flower fields bloom, they will remain beautiful much longer this year than ordinarily, with the flowers in the snow covered mountains extending the season unusually late.

Home That Won't Wear Out Opened For Inspection

How far has modern science advanced toward creating homes which will never wear out?

John W. Lytle, well-known distributor and applicator of Johns-Manville building materials in Pasadena and Alhambra, has attempted to answer that question. His answer is the triple insulated home just completed at 2255 Sherwood Road, San Marino, in which Johns-Manville specifications and materials have been used throughout.

While this home was constructed for a private party, rather than as a model home, arrangements have been made to open it for public inspection on Sunday, March 21, from 11:00 a.m. to 5 p.m., and on week-days thereafter, for a limited time, from 1 to 5 p.m. It is located just east of San Marino avenue, four blocks south of the San Marino city hall. A large sign on the property identifies it.

Everything that Johns-Manville engineers have developed to cut wear and maintenance costs, and add to comfort and safety, are present in this unusual building. It is insulated in three ways: against fire, against heat and cold, against wear.

The roof and sidewalls are covered with Johns-Manville rigid shingles and siding which, being made of asbestos and cement, cannot burn, rot, split, curl, or wear out. The Siding has the appearance of wood, the permanence of stone, and will never need painting.

The plaster is re-informed with Johns-Manville Steeltex, which brings to the interior walls a strength badly needed to eliminate the common faults of plaster cracking, excessive maintenance costs, and lath and joist marks.

Genuine Lytle-applied Johns-Manville Rock Wool Home Insulation has been packed between the wall studding and ceiling joists to make the home cool in summer and warm in winter.

TREEHAVEN SCHOOL TO HAVE SUMMER CAMP

At the Treehaven school, 266 East Montecito avenue, enrollment for the summer camp at Big Bear Lake is well under way, according to reports from Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Mr. and Mrs. Bosco plan to leave this week for Big Bear Lake to make final arrangement for the camp.

What this engine means to you!

YOU'D never dream that fast freight service meant greater saving or newer styles, would you? That it really affected your home or pocketbook? Or that Union Pacific's gigantic "Challenger" freight locomotives saved you money?

Yes, that's what fast freight service means to you, and this is why it happened:

We wanted to offer the American shipper faster, more precise freight service, the kind you expect from crack passenger flyers.

We started out by buying fifty high-speed modern locomotives for main line service in 1928. Then we spent long months of experiment to set even higher standards. The result—a new type of super-powerful freight locomotive, the "Challenger," designed to handle heavy train loads at a speed of sixty miles an hour. Fifteen of these huge leviathans are now in service. Twenty-five more are being built.

These great "Challengers" enable us to maintain a speed which is 55% greater than it was in 1928 and reduced the time between Council Bluffs and Ogden—the great transcontinental speedway—to less than half of the former running time.

But more than that (and this is where you come in), fast schedules mean reduced inventories, lower stocks and replacements for stores and shops . . . enable shopkeepers to pass along this saving to you, in lower prices, because quick turnovers cut down costs and losses.

So today, when you do your shopping, buy a new suit or a gown straight from a New York fashion designer, or even a tin of beans . . . your pocketbook will tell you the happy results of Union Pacific's policy of constantly planning for the future. Union Pacific always looks ahead!

THE PLAYHOUSE

Gilmore Brown, in a set of flapping wings and the ludicrous garb of a Persian porter, will lead a name laden cast into the Pasadena Community Playhouse showing of James Bridie's comedy success, "Tobias and the Angel," scheduled for March 23 to April 5.

The play taken from the Book of Tobit in the Apocrypha, tells the story of an ancient Persian legend through the laugh enticing medium of modern dialogue and farcical situations which could easily be "food for film" for the Marx or Ritz Brothers.

Miss Mary Rees from the African Mission will give an illustrated message of her work in Africa at the regular Wednesday night service of Bethany church.

Before an archway of Jassamin and yellow Jacquelines and bouquets of cut flowers and ferns, the marriage vows were read at high noon by Dean Arnold Bode, rector of the Episcopal church, at Grant Chapel. Only relatives and a few close friends of the couple attended.

The bride given in marriage by her mother, chose a white silk flowered evening gown with blue accessories. She wore a corsage of white gardenias. Little Joyce Lange, dressed in a dainty white organdy dress over a pink satin slip, served as ring bearer and was ushered by Delos McGlothlin.

An informal dinner after the ceremony was given in Altadena by several of their friends. Mr. and Mrs. Ryan are at home, 265 Mariposa avenue.

SOCIAL NOTES

Social Club of the O.E.S. Chapter will meet Monday afternoon for sewing at the home of Mrs. Marie Platte, 319 Camilo street. The Easter morning breakfast planned by the chapter has been postponed because of the official opening of the Wistaria Fete on March 27.

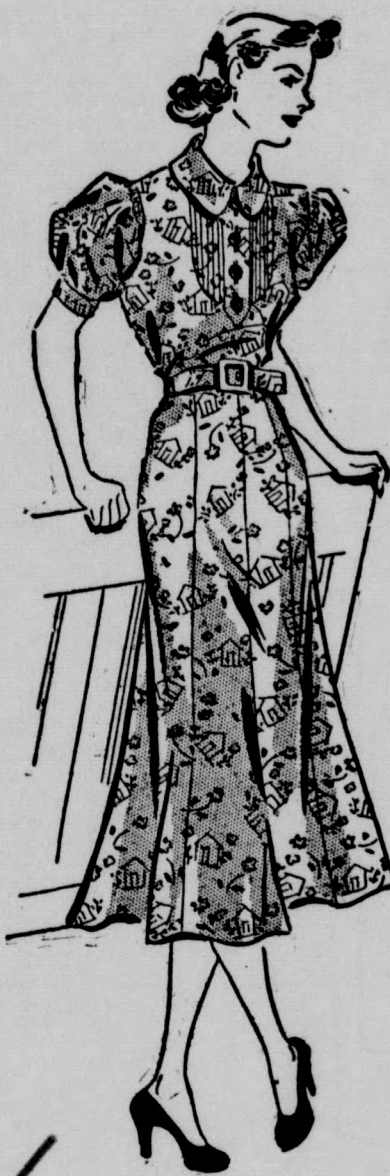

Lucille Coules celebrated her tenth birthday anniversary Tuesday afternoon with a party given at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Coules, 475 Sturtevant Drive. Games furnished the afternoon's diversion after which refreshments were served to the youthful guests among whom were Lucile Clark, Mary Wilson, Carol Strock, Margaret Coules, Jimmie Hague and the young hostess.

In keeping with St. Patrick's Day motif, 30 members and visitors of the O. E. S. Chapter enjoyed their regular meeting and party at the Masonic Temple Monday evening. Despite the inclement weather, visitors were present from Arcadia, Temple City and Oakdale. Maggie Hare and Josephine Horra, hostesses for the evening, served refreshments.

A birthday party honoring Mrs. Essie M. Woodruff was given last Friday night at Cadmus Villa, 601 Woodland Drive, by Miss Laura E. Cadmus. A musical program was followed by refreshments. Guests, besides the honor guest and hostess, were Mrs. Merkel and daughter, Miss Hilda Merkel, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Luse of Long Beach; Mrs. H. I. Adams, Mrs. Ella A. Cadmus and B. C. Maxwell.

Miss Gertrude Officer and Andy Decot of Los Angeles were the only attendants. Miss Moreland Kortkamp played Lohengrin's wedding march. About twenty-five guests of the couple from Los Angeles were present for the ceremony. —Doris Gilbert.

Life Of Missionary In Japan Holds Interest Of Women

With "Japanese in Southern California" as his topic, Rev. T. Horikoshi of the Japanese Presbyterian church in Hollywood addressed the Women's Society of the Congregational church at Tuesday's missionary luncheon meeting. He related many interesting incidents relative to work of Japanese missionaries illustrative of the superiority of Christianity to Buddhism.

Spring blossoms reminiscent of Japan were used as table decorations. Mrs. B. L. Hinkley and her committee were in charge of the luncheon.

Mrs. M. C. Barker and Mrs. Nestor Young Jr. were hostesses.

Woman's Club Notes

UNDER the glorious spring sun at Scenic Point, members of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club will hold their annual Reciprocity luncheon Wednesday, March 24th. Some fifty invitations have been extended to other Women's Clubs in the surrounding communities, who will be delightfully entertained under the vine by Madame Akemi Togo who will discuss the tradition of wistarias as well as demonstrating unique flower arrangements.

During Wednesday's Sections group meetings at which Mrs. Rose Snell, Mrs. Esther Rashin and Mrs. Ethel Myers officiated, George Peabody gave a very detailed and graphic description of the scope and extent of the recreational department of the WPA. Mr. Peabody spoke in place of R. E. Fitch, the supervisor of this department of the WPA for this district. During the informal luncheon period, Mrs. C. A. Allen reviewed a most interesting play, "Parnell," revised by Margaret Rawlings, and originally written by Elsie P. Schaffner. The play dealt with the tragedy which prevented Parnell from going on with his great work during the 1880's.

Mrs. H. A. N. Addis is carrying on admirably with the French section in the absence of Mrs. Lee Shippey. This class will meet at the club Friday, March 26, at 1 o'clock to continue the study in French.

Announce Contests For Violinists And Pianists

Pasadena Civic Orchestra Association announces contests for young artist violinists and pianists, the winners, one in each contest, to appear as soloists with the orchestra under the baton of its notable conductor, Richard Lert. One winner will play with the orchestra at the last concert of this season, June 26; the other winner will be soloist for the concert which will open the 1937-38 season in the autumn.

Contests will be held Tuesday, April 6, and Thursday, April 8, in the afternoon, at the studio of Mrs. Joseph M. Goss, 588 Woodland Road, Pasadena.

Contestants may play any standard concerto of their own choosing. The concertos played by the winners will be used at their respective appearances with the orchestra if those concertos are suitable to the ability of the orchestra. Contestants must select their own accompanists.

Payments Under The Social Security Act Demanded

Twelve persons in Los Angeles county have already claimed payments under the national social security act, which went into effect January 1.

One man claimed the 3 1/2 percent of money he had earned since the first of the year and got $5.25. The other 11 got sums less than $5.

Monthly payments under the plan will not begin until 1940.

Miss Morgridge Is Headed For National Honors

A prize of $1000 plus nationwide concert appearances was a step nearer for Miss Elizabeth Morgridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Morgridge, 19 West Orange Grove avenue, when she won the Southern California district young artists competition in Los Angeles Saturday. The affair was a preliminary to the National Federation of Music Clubs contest later in the year at Indianapolis.

While the contest is open for persons between 21 and 30, Miss Morgridge, a highly skilled violinist, was permitted to enter by virtue of her winning a place in the student division of the same contest, a biennial event, two years ago.

The youthful virtuoso will next compete in the California-Nevada division elimination.

Miss Morgridge, at present studying the violin and French, will appear on a concert program at the Hotel Vista del Arroyo March 30.

Lid Down On Gambling Devices

Operators Of Pin And Other Machines Here Are Abiding By New Regulations

There will be no repercussions in Sierra Madre from the anti-gambling ukase issued Monday by Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz, it was pointed out yesterday by Chief of Police G. G. McMillan.

Chief McMillan, who was among the 100 police officials and city employees attending the sheriff's "crime conference" Monday, pointed out that operators of pin-ball machines here were instructed to shut down their machines following a meeting of police chiefs of Los Angeles county December 20.

Operators here have made no attempt to reopen since then, although gambling in nearby cities and in adjacent county territory has gone on unchecked.

Monday's conference was the upshot of a letter to the sheriff from Attorney General U. S. Webb, in which he charged that "the law violators in Los Angeles county are now openly challenging the official integrity and the official efficiency of the law officers of the county and of its various municipalities."

"I am quite familiar with the claim that many of these machines are played for amusement only, but you and I both well know that the gambler can make no profit on an amusement machine," Webb wrote.

Games included under Webb's ban are pin-ball machines, slot machines, tango and all other games of chance.

Under the attorney general's ruling, the law will have to be enforced against gambling at charity functions, McMillan declared.

Fire Flames

By One of the Boys

DURING Friday night's meeting members of the Fire Department were pleasantly surprised with a visit from a very young lady who introduced us to the work of the Junior Drama Guild of which Mrs. Frances Eakman is the advisor. After having heard the girl make a talk, a lot of the boys decided they had better ask Mrs. Eakman if they might join the Guild — or some Guild under her direction. The manner in which this very young girl approached the meeting and the way she delivered her appeal for co-operation from the boys showed beyond doubt that Mrs. Eakman is doing a wonderful work with the children.

The Chief nearly lost his prestige when his attention was called to the fact that he appeared at the recent Angeles Forest Protective meeting dressed in his business suit, when he should have had on his firemen's uniform. He was reminded of this in no small language. Bill took it with a smile.

Some of the men are getting anxious for a fire call, but seriously would dislike to spoil our record of few fires. We have so few fires here for a city of this size that the residents must be commended for their thoughtfulness. Only strangers coming into this territory are innocent of the danger of fire and its results. The firemen appreciate the co-operation of those who aid us in preventing fire by reporting any hazard that may exist.

We like to fight fires, but our aim is to keep the "Fires Out."

A.L.A. Activities

PLANS to observe the American Legion's birthday as directed by its National Commander were considered and a beautiful plaque was presented to our unit National Defense chairman by President Lovejoy at our meeting last Monday evening.

Excerpts from minutes of the unit activities in 1936 were most interesting, as ready by Mrs. T. P. Buie.

Musician Mrs. Wilhelmi was present and we were most happy of her presence. Also our thanks to the Baldwin Safeway for the space to conduct the food sale.

The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Quin on Ramona avenue, March 25th at 8 p.m.

Tax Payments Beat All Past Years

City And County Funds Pour Into Collector At Rate Of $125,000 A Day

Tax payments for the first two weeks of March have averaged $125,000 per day, according to H. L. Byram, county tax collector. This record exceeds that for the same period for all past years. Up to March first the year's collections were $6,587,417, or some $605,000 ahead of the $5,982,240 that had been paid in the last fiscal year up to the corresponding date, the tax collector said.

Payment of delinquent taxes on Los Angeles county property exceeded a quarter of a million dollars during the short month of February, according to T. E. Tanner, chief of the tax redemption bureau of the tax collector's office.

The total collected, $792,354, was more than double the amount collected during February of 1936, according to the tax collector's book.

April 20, is the deadline to pay Sierra Madre City and Los Angeles county penalties, unless the present session of the State legislature extends the privilege. Delinquent taxes may also be paid in 10 payments, a plan that has made it possible for thousands of owners of tax-delinquent property to redeem their holdings.

rent taxes are increasing daily. Much of the money is paid by money order or certified checks, for which the tax collector's staff mails out receipts. Collections of current taxes were climbing toward the 70 per cent mark this week.

Bring your building problems to us like many other Sierra Madre people have done. We can develop your job from the original idea to the delivery of a completed home.

*What this engine
means to you!*

YOU'D never dream that fast freight service meant greater saving or newer styles, would you? That it really affected your home or pocketbook? Or that Union Pacific's gigantic "Challenger" freight locomotives saved you money?

Yes, that's what fast freight service means to you, and this is why it happened:

We wanted to offer the American shipper faster, more precise freight service, the kind you expect from crack passenger flyers.

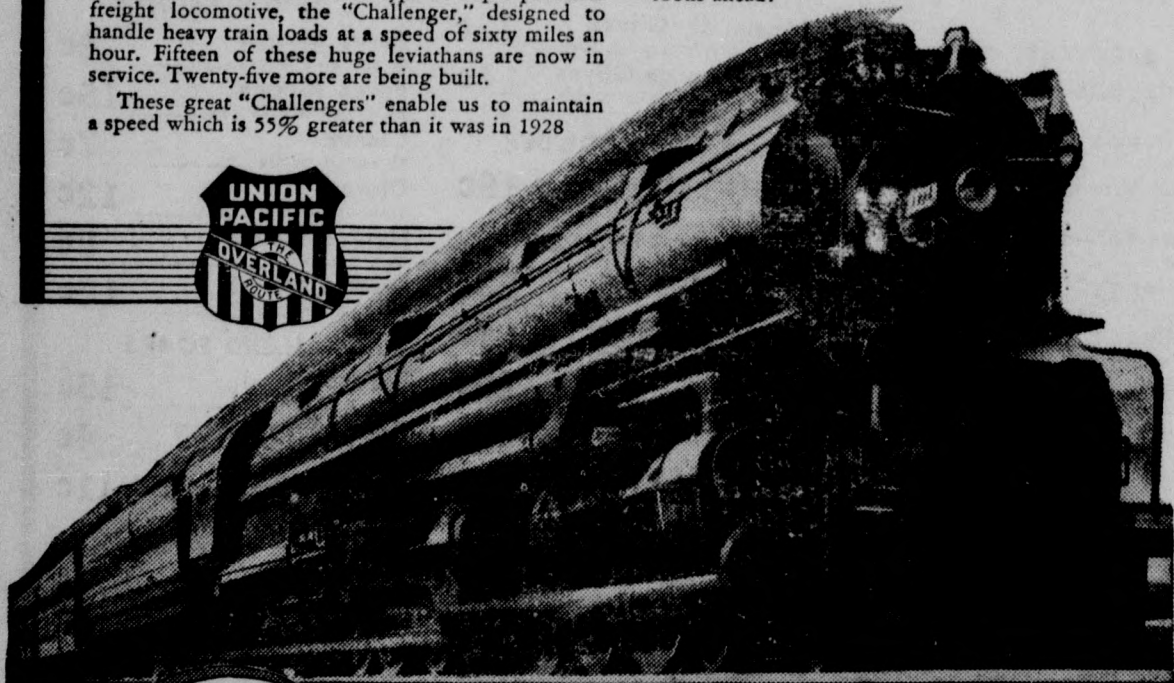

We started out by buying fifty high-speed modern locomotives for main line service in 1928. Then we spent long months of experiment to set even higher standards. The result—a new type of super-powerful freight locomotive, the "Challenger," designed to handle heavy train loads at a speed of sixty miles an hour. Fifteen of these huge leviathans are now in service. Twenty-five more are being built.

These great "Challengers" enable us to maintain a speed which is 55% greater than it was in 1928

and reduced the time between Council Bluffs and Ogden—the great transcontinental speedway—to less than half of the former running time.

But more than that (and this is where you come in), fast schedules mean reduced inventories, lower stocks and replacements for stores and shops... enable shopkeepers to pass along this saving to you, in lower prices, because quick turnovers cut down costs and losses.

So today, when you do your shopping, buy a new suit or a gown straight from a New York fashion designer, or even a tin of beans... your pocketbook will tell you the happy results of Union Pacific's policy of constantly planning for the future. Union Pacific always looks ahead!
